

Value tomorrow Develop today

Business consulting, technology development and project implementation for future value creation

Lyninco is an engineering consulting- and development company based in Denmark and assisting organisations in leveraging new technology for future value creation. Focus is on water and environment, digitalisation and Internet of Things. Implementation is with external networks of experienced experts and by establishing contacts with partners.

Hans G. Enggrob, Founder of Lyninco

How we can help you

New technologies rapidly change society, industries, markets and organisations

Digitalisation, climate change, green economy, cleantech, sustainability, smart cities, circular economy, globalisation are examples of trends that challenge organisations. At the same time, they offer new opportunities for those who carefully and efficiently select, develop and implement suitable new solutions.

Several years of international experience within development management, consulting and executive leadership is the background for Lyninco as a dedicated development partner for you. Further, the technical experience and expertise in water and environment world-wide is second to none.

Through a network of external experts, a strong team is set up for any development project, which can secure the value of your business in the future.

Business Consulting

- Strategy and value design
- Water, sustainability, climate change
- Digitalisation, IoT and engineering

Development and innovation

- Business cases
- Expert resource and fund raising
- Workshops and project planning

Implementation

- Project management
- Execution and hand-over
- Courses and change management

About Us

We believe in the strengths of agile cooperation in external networks across boundaries. Lyninco is a network-based organisation with a number of associated collaborating partners such as engineering specialists as well as organisational or business experts. The team is carefully tailored together with you to the specific needs in the individual projects.

Contact Us

Lyninco ApS, Address: Christian Xs Alle 116, DK-2800 Kongens Lyngby, Denmark, Phone: (+45) 20431916
Email: info@lyninco.com, Webpages: www.lyninfo.com, linkedin.com/company/lyninco, VAT no: DK39514656